Grover Cleveland at Albany.

ALBANY, July 28.—Several members of the democratic notification national committee have arrived and the remainder will be here to-night. The formal notification to Governor Cleveland will take place at the executive mansion at 3:30 to-morrow. The proceedings will be brief. The chairman will make a short address to which Mr. Cleveland will reply. On account of the limited accommodations at the executive mansion none will be present but the members of the committee and a few personal friends of the governor. Among the callers to-day were Mr. and Mrs. Geiger, of Kentucky, Charles Buckman, managing editor of the Post and Telegraph, and Judge W. C. Ostrum, of Chicago.

THE COMMITTEE IN SESSION.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The democratic committee to notify Cleveland of his nomination met at the Fifth Avenue hotel to-day, signed the democratic platform and held an executive session.

The sub-committee appointed at Chicago to prepare addresses to candidates submitted a report which was adopted. The committee leave for Albany to-night. To-morrow they wait on Governor Cleveland and formally notify him of his nomination. On Wednesday the committee will proceed to Saratoga and notify Mr. Hendricks.

A Frightful Steamship Collision.

LONDON, July 28.—The survivors of the steamship Lexham, which collided with the Spanish steamer Gijon, report that on the evening of the collision a thick fog prevailed. The Lexham was going slow. Both steamers were sounding their whistles. The Gijon struck the Lexham amidships, and the latter was nearly cut in two. The funnel fell and the steamship burst. The chief engineer was horribly scalded. Most of the Lexham's crew boarded the Gijon. The captain of the Lexham tied his wife and child to himself and all three were hauled aboard the Gijon. The Lexham sank twenty minutes after the collision. Not long after the Gijon began to settle and a terrible confusion prevailed. The captain stood with revolver in hand, but was unable to keep order. The passengers and crew were fighting for their lives. The boats were filled to the gunwales but could not accommodate half the people. Those fortunate enough to secure places in them were obliged to keep others away with their knives. The Gijon sank bow first. The captain and officers were standing on the bridge. It is estimated that 150 people perished. The quarter deck was crowded with men and women when the vessel sank.

The Wabash Interest Muddle.

ST. LOUIS, July 28.—Regarding the contemplated action by holders of North Missouri railroad bonds in connection with the default of interest on them by the Wabash company, reference to which was made in these dispatches last Saturday, Jos. F. How, general agent of the receivers stated this morning that the default is only temporary and that the interest will be paid as soon as the money can be raised. The court authorized the interest to be paid not only on their bonds but also on those of the Chicago division and the St. Charles, Burlington and Omaha branch, aggregating $341,000. General Agent How said that a part of this money had already been sent to New York and he expects the remainder to be there by the middle of August when the entire amount will be paid and the default made good.

Woman's Wild Woman.

Dubuque, Ia., July 28.—The news of a queer specimen of the female sex in the woods near Gordon's Ferry, a place about twelve miles north of here, reached Dubuque this morning.

When first discovered by hunters she was standing like a statue in a clear space, with her back toward them. They wishing to get a square look at the strange apparition, got around in front of her, but they no sooner had done so than, with an unearthly scream, she darted off through the woods and ran about 300 yards when she stopped, got behind a large tree, and with a wild glare viewed the visitors at a distance. After another ineffectual attempt to discover her identity she was lost to their sight. They explored the woods for over two hours, but were unable to discover any trace.

It's Kates Attempts Suicide.

NEW YORK, July 28.—B. F. Estes, aged thirty, a partner of the firm of E. B.

Estes & Son, attempted suicide yesterday. He came to the Grand Central hotel and registered as B. F. Estes, Brooklyn, and was assigned a room. He was not seen afterward. To-day the chambermaid found him on the floor of the room, and an examination showed that, though apparently dead, there was still some life. A ragged wound behind the ear where the skin and hair was burned and blackened by powder, and a thirty-two caliber revolver lying under the head explained the cause of his condition.

They Would Sing.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 28.—Yesterday afternoon seventeen members of the Salvation Army were in duress vile for singing on the streets. One of the officers who had been warned against singing disregarded the hint and was arrested. His brethren and sisters determined to keep him company and were accommodated. They made things lively for a while singing and praying. Ultimately the men and women were separated and kept up the musical performance until a late hour.

England Always Threatened France.

The Figaro advises France to abandon her relations with England, give up her prejudices and hatred and make alliance with Germany. Germany was an honest enemy she would be an honest ally.
